Chaves County Federated Republican Women

Chaves FRW, like many of our clubs, worked diligently to schedule appearances by all available state and local Republican candidates during our monthly luncheons. We also had presentations by Carla Sonntag—Better Together New Mexico, the City of Roswell Police Chief, the Assistant City Manager, County Manager and Paul Gessing—Rio Grande Foundation.

A come-and-go "Call to Action" was announced in September and received an outpouring of support from many members throughout the day. Members joined in mailing membership brochures for 2027, working on voter call lists, preparing for parade float activities and other items in preparation for the months ahead.

CCFRW partnered with the Republican Party of Chaves County to create a parade float highlighting the theme of the Eastern NM State Fair "Barn in the US" as well as state and local candidates. Numerous CCFRW members also volunteered numerous hours throughout the week to work the Republican fair booth.

CCFRW held a fundraiser for our two local state candidates—Michael Perry for Land Commissioner and Larry "Led" Marker for U.S. Senate. Raffled was a $500 beef package from a local vendor.

CCFRW board members continue to participate monthly in the "Mornings with Mike Winters" on Roswell's Talk FM at 106.5 or https://roswelltalkfm.com to update the community on our efforts.

The executive board meets monthly to provide updates of their ongoing committee projects and to collaborate on any special events. Our Caring for America committee continues to do exceptional projects for the at-risk youth housed at the Roswell Assurance Home. The Scrapbook committee convened to work on the CCFRW scrapbook.

Lastly, pursuant to CCFRW bylaws, a three-member Nominating Committee was voted on and will be responsible for filling the new slate of officers for 2027-2028. New officers will be voted in during the November luncheon with installation scheduled for December 2026.

Respectfully submitted,

Charlotte Gurulé
CCFRW President
